Their Preference for President. The action of the Cabell county Republicans in instructing their delegates to the district and state conventions to vote only for known McKinley men does not mean that they lack confidence in any of the men who are in the field. means that they wish to declare their strong preference and want no mistakes made. It is also intended to be the answer of Cabell county to the allegation that West Virginia Republicans are likely to send other than McKinley men to the national convention. The claim promptly made that the two delegates chosen in the Third congressional district are for Reed has aroused the Republicans of the whole state. The Third district delegates are for McKinley beyond question, but it suits the combine to claim them so as to weaken the moral force of West Virginls in the preliminary skirmlaning. On a straight fight no combine man would have a show in West Virginia, and the disposition of Republicans is to see that avowed McKinley men who can be trusted go to the national convention. No others need apply.

Depew says that the only thing that will prevent Morton's nonlination will be want of votes. So small a matter should not be permitted to defeat a great undertaking.

Holmes. In so far as the multi-murderer Holmes reveals himself he is not just what he cracks himself up to be would have it appear that he killed be-cause of a propensity to kill, and that he equipped himself for his flendish work because he was aware of his pro-pensity and desired to know the best methods of gratifying it.

His facts to not support his theory He says he became very fond of one of the Williams sisters, but notwithstanding his fondness he killed her. Else where he says that she knew too much abouthim. This unquestionably is one of the reasons why he wanted her out of the way. Another was that she had means which he was determined to get without incumbrance. He killed the Pietzel children and their father to make

Holmes went about his devilish work with no conscience to bother him, but after all he was simply a speculator in human life. He was a thief who killed that he might steal. His confession is regarded by some as showing an unbalanced mind. Perhaps his is that sort of mind, but nothing that is known of him stands in the way of hanging him by the neck until he is dead. And may God have mercy on his soul,

Rhode Island is another of the combine's New England disappointments. It did not instruct for Reed.

Greater New York.

The people of Greater New York are beginning toask what kind of municipal government it is proposed to give them. The idea of a city of three millions of people is very captivating, and yet it does not follow that consolidation will mean better city government. is reason to fear that the city government may not be so good as it is now From the birth of the idea thoughtful men have seen that the scheme is fraught with danger. If the greater city is to have a form of government that will put it in control of the taxgrabbers at the start, the people of Greater New York will find it harder than ever to shake off the venal element and next to impossible to get good government.

Good government is better than a big city, and in this country it seems that the larger the city the worse the city

If Vice President Stevenson wants to be in it he will have to begin to beat some big drums. There is no Stevenson noise anywhere

A Youthful Firebug.

(A New York boy thirteen years old confesses to setting fire to flat houses "to see the engines come up." He is a bright boy well educated for his age, the son of well-to-do parents. Such a boy knows the difference between right and wrong. He knows that to set on fire a building in which are human beings is to place in peril human life. A boy who does what this youngster did is not safe to be at large. His next di-version might be to take life for the pleasure of seeing the blood flow. There have been persons of this kind.

Says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record: "If you give McKinley one-half of the delegates from the southern states, which is less than he is entitled to, and deduct 20 per cent from the northern states that are claimed for him, but have not yet elected their delegations, he will have 460 votes in the convention." That will be in the convention." That will be enough to carry the Ohlo man over the riffie, but it is not all he will get. The Republican people are going to do the St. Louis business with a mighty rush.

A Representative Newspaper Man. Journalism sustains a real loss in the death of John A. Cockerill, who filed in Cairo, Egypt, in the service of the New York Herald. Colonel Cockerill was a fine specimen of the American news-paper man. He had worked his way up from the bottom and reached a rank with the best. He was not only a brilliant writer. He was distinctly a bril-liant editor. He knew how to make an acceptable newspaper, and with half a chance never failed to do it.

He helped more than one employer to make money and, with the exception of the New York Herald, he never had an employer who treated him fairly. Cockerill was an Ohio product of whom his state has reason to be proud.

Republican suggestions meetings will be held to-night. Republicans who take an interest in their party should attend. The suggestion meeting is an open field for all Republicans.

A Chance at Bayard. If Mr. Bayard wants the Democratic nomination for the presidency why not let him have it? It would be a pleasure to all of us to see him submit himself in that way to his countrymen. Perhaps he would make a better run than Mr. Cleveland could make, but, barring Cleveland, he would get fewer votes than any man who could be named. The people of this country would fall over themselves to get to the polls to hit him a crack. If Mr. Bayard were to run for king of England he might go in with a triumphant whirl.

General Grosvenor congratulates Colnel Vance on the good work done by the Ohio Valley Improvement Associa-Colonel Vance deserves commendation for the active and intelligent part he has taken in impressing on Congress the needs of the Ohio river. As Gen-eral Grosvenor says, the wedge has been driven in well. A good beginning has been made. It remains only to folthis up and to see that the Ohio shall be no longer a neglected stream.

The Chicago committee which has in charge the preparations for the Demo-cratic national convention in Chicago was to have $40,000 ready to turn over by March 1. More than a month has passes since the appointed time, and Chairman Harrity is waiting for the money. It is a good deal easier to make promises and bluffs than it is to raise money. In this money is the one thing

The Rocky Mountain News does not agree with those who say that McKinley not a safe sound money man. It ys: "The people of the west are not going to be fooled into supporting Mc-Kinley or any other man of his financial views." In this "the people of the west" means the silver mining camps. There is a good deal of the west outside of those camps.

Pitchfork Tillman has found out what is the matter. "The press of the country has been subsidized by the money power." It is very hard to go against so strong a combination. Of course Tillman can't be mistaken about any

Mr. Whitney fears that the revived rumor of his approaching marriage is part of the scheme to force on him the Democratic nomination for the presi-dency. Therefore he is hard at work to head off the rumor and so thwart the conspirators.

REGENTS ADJOURN.

The Compulsory Attendance at Chape

The Compulsory Attendance at Chapel Satisfactorily Adjusted to All Concerned. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 12.— The board of regents, after a short but busy session, adjourned yesterday at noon, Much of the business receiving attention was of minor importance, the weightier matters being left over until the June meeting.

The following orders relating to the much discussed attendance upon chapel exercises were among the most important ones passed:

Resolved that the following shall be standing orders of the board and go

1—The first recitation hour of the university shall begin at 8:15 a. m.

2—That all students of the university shall assemble in Commencement hall at 10:15 a. m., each school day for roll-call, when the roll of all the students of the university shall be called and all necessary announcements shall be the university shall be called and all necessary announcements shall be made.

3—That after roll-call and announcements, any student iffay quietly and orderly withdraw, after which the president or such person as he may designate may conduct a simple devotional exercise of reading, singing and prayer, after which the regular class work shall be resumed at 10-30.

4—That every absence of any student from roll call shall count 5 demerits; 30 demerits shall count 5 demerits; 40 demerits shall count 5 demerits; 40 demerits shall count 5 demerits; 40 femerits shall count 5 demerits; 50 femerits shall count 5 demerits; 50 femerits shall count 5 demerits; 50 femerits prayed to the student for the whole term. Provided, however, that any student shall be excused from roll call on certificate of sickness, given by his physician, or for absence from the university permission of the president and the dean of the college to which he belongs.

5—That all previous orders of the board of regents and the university faculty pertaining to chapel service be and are hereby repealed.

This order is pretty generally approved and is deemed in every way worthy of the consideration given it by the board.

Among other things done of more than ordinary importance, was the increasing of the facilities which the commercial department offers by the election of Mr. Buchanan White, as an assistant to Professor Whills and the purchase of four new typewriting machines. This department has proven a popular one and most excellent results have been obtained by the introduction of the course.

An order was passed giving cade in sealth for one hour's work each in population of the course.

An order was passed giving cadets credit for one hour's work each in the military department.

The regents have matured a plan for a more complete course in agriculture, which will be equal to almost any in the country. All the departments will be organized on the college plan, according to the university idea. Dr. Myers will be dean of the College of Engineering and the Mechanical Arts. The plan will be set forth in detail in the new catalogue, which is now ready for the printer.

one of the court chamberlains, during a duel fought yesterday in the vicinity of the Neue Palais at Potsdam.

Baron Von Schrader was severely wounded in the abdomen at the time of the meeting on the field of honor and his recovery from the injuries received was considered from the first, doubtful. If not impossible. The death at Potsdam of Baron Von Schrader, master of ceremonies at the Prussian court, as a result of injuries received during a duel with Count Lebrecht Von Kotze, formerly court chamberlain, will undoubtedly go a long ways towards reviving the sreat court anonymous letters scandals which for years have furnished Germany, and in fact all Europe, with a series of startling sensations. ## GENERAL GROSVENOR

Sends Hearty Congratulations to the People of the Great Ohio Valley. President John L. Vance, of the Ohio

Valley Improvement Association, has received the following letter from Gen. C. h. Grosvenor, representative in Congress from the Eleventh Ohio district, congratulatory of the recent passage by the house of the rivers and harbors bill:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8, 1896. Hon, John L. Vance, President Ohlo Valley Improvement Association Gallipelis, Ohio.

Hon. John L. Vance, President Ohio Valley Improvement Association, Gaillipolis, Ohio.

My Dear Sir.—There is great cause for congratulation on the part of the millions interested in the traffic upon the Ohio river, by reason of the river and harbor bill which we passed on Monday. That bill was passed under a suspension of the rules and with only forty minutes of debate, and some criticism was offered because of that fact, but the Record shows that two hours and a half were tendered fer debate, and that limit was refused by the enemies of the bill, and it was only when their objection was refused by the enemies of the bill, and it was only when their objection was refused by the enemies of the bill, and it was only when their objection was refused by the enemies of the bill, and it was only when their objection was refused that I refused any extension of debate beyond the limit given by the rules. I had carefully examined the bill, and believed that it would not be improved by debate or attempted amendment.

The chairman of the committee, Hon. W. B. Hooker, has shown himself a most capable member of the house in his intelligent and successful management of the bill. The Ohio Valley Improvement Association and yourself conspicuously may well be congratulated upon the outcome of your efforts thus far to secure adequate appropriations for the great valley which you represent. No river of the world furnishes to commerce such a volume of traffic as does the Ohio river and its ributaries, and hence it is the high duty of statesmanship to see to it that the natural advantages which God has given to the Ohio valley shall be utilized to the utmost extent possible.

It is not in the amount of money immediately appropriated that they have achieved victory, but it is in the fact that after all these years of struggle the system of contract improvement his being any of contract of the work under the new plan will save to the government of less than 30 per cent in actual cost, and relieve the friends of the improvement from c gress towards the completion of the work.

The newspapers at Cincinnati, which spoke so enthusiastically and intelligently upon the subject in the fall, pending the organization of your association, are entitled to congratulating because of the fulfillment of the plans which were inaugurated at the gathering in Cincinnati. The defeat of the purpose to deflect the influence of the valley people to a commission was one of the good results of that meeting, and the invoking of public sentiment and public interest all along the valley has brought about exactly the grand results upon which I congratulate you to-day. The work of the association and your work has been admirable in time and temper, and the diplomacy, which has accomplished so much cannot be too highly emulated in the future.

With sentiments of high regard,
I am yours truly,
C. H. GROSVENOR.
